

AFRICAN AMERICAN

MUSEUM & LIBRARY

OAKLAND

Memory and Passion

By

HAWA KABA

African American Museum Library at Oakland

November 6, 2010 ~
February 19, 2011

The mixed media paintings by the artist relates to work from the past fifteen years, reflecting both the artist's formative years in Africa and her experience living in contemporary multi-cultural Canada. As a whole, this oeuvre is an expression of cultural bridging, with artwork creating opportunities for bringing people of contrasting cultures together.

For more information, please contact:

Veda Silva, MPC, 510-637-0200

aamlo@oaklandlibrary.org

African American Museum & Library at Oakland (AAMLO), a branch of the Oakland Public Library (OPL)
659 Fourteenth Street Oakland, CA 94612 510-637-0200

AAMLO Chief Curator, Rick Moss
OPL Director, Carmen Martinez